The American Law Register for June contains the continuation of the paper entitled "The Consideration of a Contract," together with several able reviews of recent American and English decisions.

The New Jersey Medical Reporter for this month has an interesting biographical sketch and portrait of Dr. Alexander Stevens, M. D., L. L. D., second President of the American Medical Association, and President of the College of Physicians and Surgeons. Although not distinguished as an operator, few men living are more thoroughly acquainted with the nature and treatment of surgical diseases. The discovery by the German analytical chemist Verdeit that in the parenchyma of the lungs a peculiar crystalizable acid is present, which forms crystaline compounds with bases, has led to some interesting speculations in the present number. We recommend the article to the attention of the faculty.

The Pieneer, a Californian Monthly Magazine for May, which has only just reached us, shows a creditable advance in literary merit on the previous numbers. Although it is evident that the articles are mostly written by amateurs, they are in general clever and readable, and a little more careful weeding in the poetical department would render this magazine fully equal to the same light class of periodicals that obtain favor here. Not the least amusing part of this number is the chapter on masical and theatrical matters, which will be found under the head of the Editor's Table. It would appear from the criticisms therein presented to us, that the Californians are becoming as fastilious in the arts as the oldest habitues of La Scala, or the Grand Opera in the Rue Lepelletier.

Mars.—Bonner's Map of Georgia.—The first knowledge we have of the geography of Georgia. was obtained from a map of that State, published between forty and fifty years ago, by Elizar Early. At that time the country west of the Ocmulgee and north-west of the Creek and Cherokee Indians, and never having been surveyed, was represented on Early's map as unexplored territory. About the year 1833, Crange Green published a small map of the State, on which was delineated the districts of the State, on which was delineated the districts of the Creek and Cherokee purchases, as they had been laid off into lots by authority of the Legislature. Since the publication of Green's map, the number of counties has increased from 90 to 112. Over one thousand miles of railroad have been established. The railroads in operation in Georgia are—western and Atlantic (owned by the State), 139 miles; Georgia Railroad, with branches to Athens, Washington, and Western, 161; Atlanta and Western, 17; Maynesbery, 52; Marcon and Mestern, 161; Atlanta and Western, 17; Maynesbery, 52; Marcon and Western, 162; Maynesbery, 53; Marcon and Rem Breunard, and there been indicted, tried, and convicted of the murder of Albert Story, who was killed by a mob on the 16th day of December last, in the county of La Salle. I need not rehearse the circumstances of the affray which resulted in the terrible tragedy there enacted. It was a scene of riot and blood, at the details of which the heart recoils with horror—a scene which, during the time of the property of the search of the control of the c

In the great proviso hubbub of 1847-50, it was the voice of the great West which first commanded peace, and it was the example of the central Western States which enforced it.

But the paper we allude to, not content with claiming for its section of the Union a recognition to respect and attention, seeks, in ignoble imitation of the very disputes it condemns, to mark out a strictly Western policy in behalf of which to labor. It exaggerates "the millions lavished on the seaboard" to contrast them with the "pattry Congressional appropriations to the West." It complains of the discontinuance of Western post offices in the latest schedule from the Postal Department. It charges the Secretary of the Interior with suffering the act of Congress providing for the immediate purchase of Indian titles, to sleep an entire year, withoutofficial action. It remarks that the Secretary of State "having made the land ring with his demand for the release of Koszta, has quietly replied to the complaints of western citizens in like troubles abroad, that he could do nothing for them." And, rising higher in the scale of denunciation, it alleges that the President has threatened a veto of the Homestead bill—the only measure of intrinsic importance to the West which had a prospect of a passage through Congress. This impassioned rehearsal of local wrongs is concluded with a hope that the West shall rally to the support of a Western champion, under whose invincible leadership "the present pirate watchwords" of a North and a South shall become obsolete in the land.

The paper from which we quote is the St. Louis Democrat, and the "champion" whom it indicates is of course the redoubtable Thomas H. Benton, of Missouri. Let us see how this new sectional movement will progress.

Temperance and Liquor Law Items.

The working of the Liquor Law in vermont. So edious has the liquor traffic become in this place, says the Woodstock Spirit of the Age of the sth inst., that the business is not permitted to be carried on quietly, even under the protection of an agent appointed by law for that purpose. A few marnings since the door of our "medicinal" agent, who, (the agent, not the door,) like one of Miss McBride's suitors is an "exceedingly vulgar fraction," being a tailor, was decorated with the additional sign of "rum" in large block letters, placed just above a huge pair of shears. "Rum and scissors," was the Involuntary exclamation of the passers by, as they caught the first glimpse of this new business combination. "Rum and scissors," sure enough, and everybody laughed but the old clothes renovator, who thought it might be an innovation upon his right of restoring old colors to their original brightness. But seriously, this new mark of disrespect for the traffic arises principally from the well established conviction that these medicinal rum shops are great humbugs, established for the exclusive benefit of those who preach temperance the loudest, and yet do not wish to be deprived of their own grog altogether. They understand that all that is necessary to make the tailor discount, is to go in for Dr. Tom and the liquor law, and "none others need apply," under the penalty of being renewed and baving their names bandied about by the liquor shop hangers on and temperance loafers. But go ahead with your humbugs. "Rum and scissors" is the word.

Thestres and Exhibitions.

Broadway Treatres.—The yeary amusing place.

Theatres and Exhibitions.

Broadway Theatre.—The very amusing piece of "Shocking Evente" will be the commencing feature of the performances for to-morrow evening. The successful dramatic spectacle entitled "Faustus" will be repeated. Messrs. Conway, Pope, and Whiting, and Mad. Ponisi will sustain the principal characters. The scenery of "Faustus," as also the dresses, are beautiful and appropriate.

Bower Theatre.—The manager of this establishment announces three pieces for to-morrow evening, which can hardly fail to draw a large audience—the grand romantic spectacle of "Faustus," which has been put on the stage in fine style, scenes from Sheridan Knowles' comedy of the "School for Scandal," and the comic sketch of the "Know Nothings."

Niblo's Garden.—The great success of the grand ballet of "Bella la Paquerette" induces the manager of this beautiful, cool and comfortable theatre to announce it again for to-morrow evening. All the Ravels, Mile. Yrca Mathias, Paul Brillant, and Leon Javelli will appear. The "Red Gnome and White Warrior" will conclude the entertainments. During the evening a Pas de Quatre by Mile. Yrca Mathias, Mile. Franck, Mme. Marzetti and M. Brillant.

Mile. Franck, Mme. Marzetti and M. Brillant.

NATIONAL THEATRE.—The manager of this prosperous theatre has selected an entertainment for Monday evening which cannot fail to draw a large audience. The new mele-dramatic Eastern spectacle, interspersed with appropriate music, entitled "The Magic Well, or the Fairy of the Desert," will be produced. Mons. Devani will execute his surprising feats of posturing, and the musical burlesque of "Mazeppa the Second" concludes all.

WALLOW'S THEATE.—The precipits of to marget.

"Mazeppa the Second" concludes all.

WALLACK'S THEATRE.—The receipts of to-morrow evening are for the benefit of a favorite comedian, Mr. Lester. Cowley's comedy of the "Belle's Stratagem" will commence the entertainments. Mr. Wallack will appear as Doricourt, Mr. Lester as Flutter, Mr. Blake as Mr. Hardy, Mr. Byott as Sir George Toughwood, and Mrs. Conway as Letitia Hardy. Lover's farce of "The Happy Man," will conclude the entertainments.

BUCKLEY'S SERENADERS.—The burlesque opera of "Sonnambula," which is drawing crowded houses every night, will be repeated to-morrow evening. A very good selection of vocal and instrumental pieces is also announced. Those who may visit this establishment may calculate upon a pleasant evening's amestment.

CASTLE GARDEN.—The first grand Sunday concert of the season will be given at this popular resort this evening. Adkins' brass band, consisting of forty performers, will play a variety of overtures, waltzes, polkas, &c.

GREAT PEDESTRIAN FEAT.—Mr. James Scarles is to perform wonderful pedestrian feats and other amusing matters, at the Military Garden, City Hotel, Brooklyn, near the City Hall, on Monday evening, June 12, and they will be continued during the week.

RE-OFENING OF THE HIPPADROME.—Franconi and REGIRING OF THE HIPPADROME.—Franconi and his celebrated troupe will recommence the chariot races and other spiendors of the Hippadrome at Madison square, in the course of a few days. The troupe has been strengthened by several fresh riders—male and female—from Paris, and the entertainments enhanced by the introduction of military pagents, battles, &c., got up on a grand scale. The interior has been newly decorated during the absence of the troupe, and a water-poof covering placed over the entire track.

PRINCETON (N. J.) COLLEGE.—At the ensuing commencement of Princeton College, on the last Wednesday of the present month, efforts will be made to re-assemble the various classes which have graduated within the last few years, in order that they may contribute to the proposed fund of $109,000 for the endowment of the College. Part of this endowment is to be distributed into scholarships of one thousand dollars, which may be competed for by students, or any person contributing a scholarship may have the privilege of nominating incumbents. It is proposed that the various classes that have graduated should subscribe among themselves, each class contributing one thousand dollars to form a scholarship.

THE LATEST ABOUT THE ELEPHANT.—The elephant that belonged to the menagerie which exhibited in this city on Tresday, still continues in an uneasy "state of mind." He was confined with several chains in order to keep him secure; but soon after the exhibition was closed be succeeded in severing two of the chains; a third, however, which was fastened to one of his legs and around a rock, he was unable to break. Considerable excitement was caused among those who chanced to be upon the ground, and many fled from the place in hot haste. He is, undoubtedly, a dangerous animal. The company paid $700 for damages done by him in humany.—The Emford Standard, June 1.

the opening to the close to-day, was downward. In some of the fancies there was considerable activity, and more cash transactions than we have had lately. The market is not strong, and would not stand much hammering. Nicaragua and Cumberland serve materially in sustaining prices. We understand that within the past two or three weeks, large sales of Eric, New York Central, New Haven, and other railroad stocks have been made, and the proceeds invested in Cumberland and Nicaragua. There is much good sense exhibited in that movement. Railroad stocks generally, and those we have named particularly have no margin of any importance for improvement, even in market value, while both Nicaragua and Cumberland have everything in their favor. They are unwarrantably reduced in value, and purchasers at present prices cannot but realize large profits, merely by the appreciation in market value. If one-half that is anticipated in relation to these two is realized, purchasers at present prices will have no cause for complaint. At the pated in relation to these two is realized, purchasers at present prices will have no cause for complaint. At the first board to day Cumberland declined 3/2 per cent; New York Central Railroad, 3/4; Michigan Central, 3/4; New Haven Railroad, 3/4; Eric Railroad, 3/4; Reading Railroad,

At the second board the market was thought better, and closed firm at our quotations.

The steamship Baltic, from this port for Liverpool today, carried out $626,125 in specie.

The Boston Transcript of the 9th inst. says:—

The market was very heavy this morning for nearly all descriptions of stocks, Vermont Central being the only active one on the list. The "bears" broke down the price to 5½, the lowest yet, but sales were afterwards made at ½ and ½. There has been a general feeling for some days past that the stock would eventually fall to 55 per share, or lower, and this has in a great measure prevented purchasers from coming in, even at the present ecomparatively low figures. The sales to-day were smaller than the average of late, the whole number of shares sold since June 1 being 46,000, in round numbers. Ogensburg declined ½, but held firm at 7½, with limited transactions. Vermont and Massachusetts fell off ½, and closed heavy at 15. Wilming on sold at 87, a decline of ½.

and closed heavy at 15. Wilming on sold at 27, a decline of 3. Dividend stocks were heavy, and Eastern declined to 79, Western 96, Concord 52, and Maine 104 %. Providence, Worcester and Fitchburg are in fair demand. Cheshire preferred is very dull of sale at 34 asked, as also Northern at 44. Michigan Central sold at 100 %, and the same price asked for more. Vermont and Canada, 92 asked. Portland and Seco, 95 asked.

Bonds are very heavy and duil of sale, the whole of the transactions since June 1 amounting to but $20,500. Hand and copper stocks also partake of the general depression, and sell at reduced figures.
